

Rick Vohden is a senior risk consultant for Marsh Risk Consulting. He offers a wealth of services for Marsh clients ranging from operational risk and compliance assessment to education programs. Primary areas of service address occupational safety and health, environmental, property and transportation risk issues. He has been with Marsh for 31 years working out of the New York city and New Jersey offices.